

The Maxis Chronicles

My MKUltra & V2K Story

Maxis Richards

Published By: Maxis Press

The Maxis Chronicles

My MKUltra & V2K Story

By: Maxis Richards

This book is written in two sections. The first gives detailed information on the program, techniques, methods and technology used, while the second gives my personal account of my life and 15-year torturous battle with the US Government.

For 15 years, I lived through an unimaginable nightmare—one that nearly cost me my life. I was targeted by a secretive government program that sought to erase my genetic line, using cutting-edge technology and psychological warfare to break me. They wanted me dead. They failed.

My story is not just about survival; it is about the brutal reality of covert operations, the manipulation of minds, and the resilience of the human spirit. If you think this sounds like science fiction, I once did too. But what happened to me is real. And it is happening to others.

But I survived. Somehow, despite every attempt to destroy me, I endured. I uncovered the technology they used, the patterns in their tactics, and the ways they failed.

Now, I am telling my story. Not just to expose what was done to me, but to warn others. Because if they could do this to me, they can do it to anyone.

I adopted the name “Maxis Richards” to do battle with the Government. The war is not over. But now, I know how to fight, and I fight as “Maxis”.

MKUltra, V2K, and Psychological Operations: The Active Mind Control Agenda	4
Psychological Operations (PSYOP) and Behavioral Control	4
Trauma-Based Control: Breaking the Human Mind	5
V2K: Remote Neural Manipulation and Synthetic Telepathy.....	5

Electronic Harassment & Directed Energy Weapons (DEWs)	5
The Systematic Use of Remote Energy Weapons on Domestic Citizens	6
Space Force, CIA, and NSA: The Coordinated Operation	6
The Purpose: Total Behavioral and Cognitive Control	6
The Fight for Awareness and Resistance	7
Conclusion.....	7
Technological References for Remote Energy Weapons and Mind Control	7
The Start.....	9
Born into a Program: 1980.....	10
A Life of Success... and Surveillance: 2001	10
The Invisible War Begins: January 2010	11
My Brother’s Murder: December 2011	11
The Switch is Flipped: April 2020	11
Never Give Up: May 2020	12
Making a Run for It: July 2020.....	12
The Injection: September 2020	12
Homeless and Hunted in Portland	13
December 2020 – The First Attempt on My Life.....	13
Puppet Software – Serial Killers	14
The One that Killed Me	16
May 2021 – A Confession	16
Work for Us – The Invitation	17
Escaping Portland	18
The Salem Experiments	18
15 Attempts on My Life	19
Remote Energy Weapons	19
Schizophrenia Diagnosis.....	20
Space Force 2nd Space Operations Squadron.....	20
Individuals Involved in Satellite Operations:.....	20

Senior Officers Involved:.....	21
Fighting Back	21

MKUltra, V2K, and Psychological Operations: The Active Mind Control Agenda

MKUltra, the CIA’s covert mind control program, never ended—it has expanded into a classified operation run by Space Force, the CIA, NSA, and utilizing advanced technologies for psychological warfare, behavioral control, and mass manipulation. These agencies deploy Voice-to-Skull (V2K) technology, directed energy weapons (DEWs), and trauma-based psychological operations (PSYOP) to subjugate and control individuals and entire populations.

Psychological Operations (PSYOP) and Behavioral Control

PSYOP is a strategic initiative designed to alter human cognition, emotions, and behavior. Government agencies use these methods to control public perception, enforce obedience, and eliminate dissent. These operations rely on:

- Disinformation & Propaganda: Spreading false information to manipulate public beliefs.
- Fear Induction: Using intimidation, terrorism, and psychological distress to create helplessness.
- Social Engineering: Controlling narratives in mainstream and social media to shape mass behavior.
- Mind Control Techniques: Employing subliminal messaging, neuro-linguistic programming (NLP), and media repetition to alter thought processes.
- Gaslighting: Systematic psychological manipulation to make individuals doubt their own reality.

These tactics are deployed through news media, entertainment, education, and social platforms, ensuring compliance and engineered consensus.

Trauma-Based Control: Breaking the Human Mind

Trauma-based control is an advanced method used to create programmable individuals. Through exposure to extreme psychological and physical trauma, a person's mind is fragmented, making them susceptible to hypnotic suggestion and behavioral programming. Intelligence agencies have perfected these techniques in:

- MKUltra & Monarch Programming: Creating dissociative states to implant multiple identities.
- Trigger Programming: Embedding command words, images, and sounds to activate pre-programmed behaviors.
- Electromagnetic Neuromodulation: Utilizing DEWs to induce pain, hallucinations, and cognitive impairment.
- Human Trafficking & Covert Operations: Exploiting individuals for classified missions, entertainment, and control structures.

V2K: Remote Neural Manipulation and Synthetic Telepathy

V2K technology is a classified system designed to transmit voices, commands, and artificial thoughts directly into a person's mind using electromagnetic waves. This is actively used to:

- Control a target's thoughts and actions.
- Induce paranoia, anxiety, and mental instability.
- Simulate schizophrenia-like symptoms to discredit and silence victims.
- Disrupt sleep patterns and weaken cognitive function.

Electronic Harassment & Directed Energy Weapons (DEWs)

DEWs are actively deployed to attack individuals remotely, using microwave, radiofrequency, and electromagnetic radiation to inflict harm. These attacks cause:

- Severe burning sensations and neurological pain.
- Cognitive impairment, memory loss, and disorientation.
- Chronic fatigue, sudden illnesses, and weakened immunity.
- Interference with electronics, further isolating the target.

These weapons are being used against whistleblowers, activists, journalists, and anyone who threatens deep-state control.

The Systematic Use of Remote Energy Weapons on Domestic Citizens

The deployment of remote energy weapons against domestic citizens is an undeniable reality. The Space Force, CIA and NSA actively use these weapons to target individuals within the U.S. and globally. These energy-based technologies, once classified as experimental, are now operational and have been weaponized for surveillance, psychological operations, and social control.

Methods of attack include:

- Targeted microwave radiation to induce neurological distress.
- Directed sound waves to manipulate emotions and thought patterns.
- Electromagnetic pulses to disrupt biological processes and brain functions.
- Synthetic telepathy and frequency-based mind influence techniques.

The goal is to suppress dissent, silence opposition, and create a controlled and compliant population through continuous and covert psychological warfare.

Space Force, CIA, and NSA: The Coordinated Operation

The United States Space Force (USSF), CIA, and NSA oversee the deployment of classified surveillance, mind control, and energy-based weapon systems. Space-based and ground-based infrastructure enables global targeting of individuals and communities through:

- Real-time brainwave monitoring and behavioral data analysis.
- Psychological warfare designed to influence population-wide beliefs.
- Deployment of AI-driven mass manipulation techniques through social and digital platforms.
- Testing experimental neuro-invasive technologies on civilians without consent.

The Purpose: Total Behavioral and Cognitive Control

The objective of these programs is clear—establishing complete control over human perception and behavior. Intelligence agencies aim to:

- Enforce obedience and eliminate critical thought.
- Silence individuals who expose government corruption.
- Condition the public into an artificially controlled reality.

The Fight for Awareness and Resistance

Despite official denial, increasing numbers of Targeted Individuals (TIs) are coming forward with evidence of electronic harassment, mind manipulation, and psychological warfare. Declassified documents and technological patents confirm the existence of these systems, and global resistance efforts are emerging to expose and dismantle these operations.

Raising awareness and taking defensive action is imperative. The fight against PSYOP, electronic warfare, and cognitive subjugation must continue, and only through exposure can these covert operations be stopped.

Conclusion

MKUltra and V2K remain fully operational, and Space Force, the CIA, and the NSA are at the forefront of the most advanced mind control programs in human history. These agencies are engaged in a silent war on human consciousness, using psychological warfare, electromagnetic weapons, and AI-driven control systems to subjugate individuals and populations. Recognizing and resisting these tactics is the first step toward reclaiming personal sovereignty and freedom from modern-day MKUltra operations.

Technological References for Remote Energy Weapons and Mind Control

1. U.S. Military Patents on Directed Energy Weapons (DEWs)
 - a. Patent No. US 5356368 A - "Method and Apparatus for Inducing Desired States of Consciousness"
 - b. Patent No. US 6011991 A - "Remote Brainwave Manipulation"
 - c. Patent No. US 6470214 B1 - "Method and Device for Producing a Desired Brain State"
 - d. These patents confirm the development of microwave and electromagnetic technologies for brainwave influence and mind control.
2. Declassified Military Documents

- a. Project Pandora (1960s-1970s): CIA experiments exposing subjects to microwave frequencies for behavioral modification and cognitive impairment.
 - b. Frey Effect (Microwave Auditory Effect): U.S. Army studies showing that microwaves can transmit sound directly into the brain, forming the basis for Voice-to-Skull (V2K) technology.
 - c. Air Force Research Laboratory Report (2004): Acknowledges research on directed energy weapons that disrupt the nervous system and cognitive function.
- 3. Official U.S. Government Programs on Remote Energy Weapons
- a. DARPA's Neural Engineering System Design (NESD): A classified brain-computer interface program designed to remotely influence neural activity.
 - b. Silent Sound Spread Spectrum (SSSS): A psychological warfare technology used to implant thoughts and modify behavior without the subject's awareness.
- 4. Space Force's Role in Electromagnetic Warfare
- a. U.S. Space Force Doctrine (2020): Discusses the use of electronic warfare and electromagnetic spectrum dominance, validating the existence of energy-based weaponry.
 - b. Pentagon's Joint Non-Lethal Weapons Program (JNLWP): Includes Directed Energy Weapons (DEWs) as an operational tool for non-lethal population control.
- 5. Testimonies from Whistleblowers and Researchers
- a. Dr. Robert Duncan (Former CIA Scientist): Exposed the use of electromagnetic mind control technologies on civilians.
 - b. Dr. Nick Begich (Author of "Controlling the Human Mind"): Documented the weaponization of electromagnetic frequencies for psychological manipulation.
 - c. Dr. John Hall (Physician and Activist): Provided firsthand reports of targeted individuals subjected to remote neural attacks.

The Timeline

Below is a first-hand account of being a target of this operation.

The Start

The world around me had always felt different, like a stage where I was an actor in a play I never auditioned for. I had spent my life questioning why I was so different from those around me, why success came so easily yet felt so temporary, as if someone was always watching, waiting to pull the rug from beneath my feet. I didn't know then what I knew now that I was born into a life already mapped out, a project already in motion, a target already marked.

At first, the signs were small, easy to dismiss. Shadows that didn't quite belong, strangers who seemed to know more about me than they should, technology that operated just a little too perfectly around me. But when the pieces finally clicked into place, the realization hit me like a freight train: I was part of something far bigger than I had ever imagined. I was not just living my life, I was monitored, controlled, manipulated.

They say paranoia is an illness, a sickness of the mind. But what happens when paranoia is real? What happens when the whispers in your head come from someone else's voice, projected through technology most people don't even know exists?

Born into a Program: 1980

I was born in 1980 into the U.S. military. My father was in the Air Force, stationed at Langley Air Force Base in Hampton, Virginia, a short two-hour drive from CIA headquarters. From an early age, my parents told me I was part of something special, something unique. A Genetics Program, they called it. A classified initiative designed to enhance intelligence, resilience, and potential.

The doctors told my father that my identical twin and I were not actually identical. It was a mystery left unsolved, or at least that's what they wanted him to believe. But as I grew older, I began to understand the truth: I had been altered before birth. The very fabric of my DNA had been modified, making me part of something much bigger than myself—a project under the infamous MKUltra program.

MKUltra has changed over the years. What had once been crude experiments with drugs and hypnosis had evolved into a sophisticated system of remote mind control, neural manipulation, and thought implantation. And I was a part of its fourth generation living experiment, a human prototype of what was possible when science and secrecy converged.

A Life of Success... and Surveillance: 2001

Despite the looming shadow of an unknown force over my life, I thrived. My intelligence was undeniable, my motivation unmatched. By 21, I had started my first company. By 26, I was a self-made millionaire. Life felt like it was meant to be easy for me, as if the universe had laid out my success on a silver platter.

But deep down, I knew something wasn't right.

There were watchers in my life—strangers who always seemed too interested in what I was doing, too aware of my movements. My electronic devices behaved strangely.

Conversations with close friends left me questioning whether my own words were my own. Subtle disruptions, designed to feel like coincidences, began to increase. And then, suddenly, it was no longer subtle.

I turned 30. And the war against me began.

The Invisible War Begins: January 2010

They didn't just watch me. They broke me. Over the next ten years, I endured unimaginable psychological torture. They turned the people closest to me into weapons against me. My wife became an unknowing pawn, manipulated through programming and social engineering.

My Brother's Murder: December 2011

My twin brother, targeted in parallel, was pushed to his breaking point. I watched helplessly as he was led to suicide by an anonymous online handler, someone whose job was to ensure our genetic line was erased. They pressured him, harassed him, and made him broadcast his final moments live on the internet for their own satisfaction. I later found out that it was the CIA.

The Switch is Flipped: April 2020

If my life had felt manipulated before, it would have become undeniable. It was as if someone had flipped a switch—turning my world upside down overnight.

The first signs were subtle. Increased surveillance, electronic interference, and an eerie sense that I was constantly being watched. Then came the voices—not my own but implanted directly into my mind. At first, I believed I was losing my sanity, but soon I would learn the truth: Remote Neural Monitoring had begun.

Through a combination of satellites, cell towers, and something more advanced, Particle-Ware, as they called it—I was no longer in control of my own thoughts. The CIA had developed technology so powerful that it could hijack the human brain like a computer, implanting thoughts, emotions, and even physical sensations at will.

This was MKUltra's new frontier. And I was at the center of it.

Never Give Up: May 2020

My life had completely fallen apart. My marriage was a nightmare, and I was drowning in depression. I had sold my business, and my arrests for domestic violence kept piling up—each one pushing me closer to total ruin and death.

In April 2020, as COVID-19 was sweeping the world, I made the decision to move to Miami, Florida. I managed to land a job in networking, but the contractor had deep ties to the government. Later, I would learn that my hiring was no coincidence—it was a calculated move, a trap designed to lure me to Miami with one goal in mind: to drive me to suicide.

This time, they were serious.

They never expected me to still be alive. Everything that was supposed to kill me had failed, and now they needed answers. They had to get closer. And they did.

Making a Run for It: July 2020

One day, on impulse, I got up and quit the job after only four weeks. I had no backup plan, no other opportunities lined up—just an overwhelming urge to walk away.

After that, the depression hit me harder than ever.

For months, I drifted in a haze of hopelessness as my savings slowly drained away. Then, one day, with nothing left, I decided—I had to leave. I got in my car and drove to Arkansas to see my family, unsure of what awaited me but knowing I couldn't stay where I was any longer.

The Injection: September 2020

September 2020 – They injected me with something—something designed to activate with their software. Nano cells, microscopic particles, technology beyond my understanding at the time. The FBI was involved, using informants to carry out their plan. One of them was a man named V. in Van Buren, Arkansas.

Within days, an unbearable darkness consumed me. I sank into a level of depression unlike anything I had ever experienced. The thoughts were relentless, the urge to end it all overpowering. Desperate to survive, I checked myself into a hospital.

A week after I was released, something strange happened. I was supposed to fly back to Miami, but at the last minute, I didn't get on the plane. Without any logical reason, I bought a new ticket—destination: Portland, Oregon. A place I had never been, with no connections, no plan, no means to survive.

And yet, I went.

Homeless and Hunted in Portland

When I arrived in Portland, I had just enough money to stay in hotels for two weeks. After that, for the first time in my life, I became homeless. I wandered the streets aimlessly, with nowhere to go, surviving day by day.

From the very beginning, I felt like I was being watched and tracked. And I was.

I tried to keep to myself, but I kept being approached by people—"Puppets," as I later learned to call them. They would offer me drugs, and time after time, they tried to overdose or poison me. This happened at least eight times over the course of two years, carried out by four different people. Each of them was acting under orders from a handler.

December 2020 – The First Attempt on My Life

In December 2020, I met a man named Daniel Lemon, a 65-year-old from Portland, Oregon. He approached me under the pretense of offering me a job as his "assistant." He claimed to be an assassin working for the NSA. His conversations were cryptic, filled with riddles and coded language, as if he was testing whether I understood something I wasn't supposed to. I didn't.

He insisted I take the job, telling me he had previously worked at Intel on the "WiFi team." That night, he conducted an intense five-hour interview, recording me with his phone the entire time. I later realized he wasn't just interviewing me—he was interrogating me. At the end of the night, after texting back and forth with someone he called his "Handler," he told me their decision was no.

This was around 4 AM. Then things took a darker turn.

I watched as he placed a rock from another bottle into a pipe and handed it to me. He wanted me to smoke to poison myself, to die by my own hand.

I hesitated.

“Do I have to?” I asked.

He said no.

But I knew exactly what was happening—this was an attempt on my life.

He told me there were others waiting at the hotel, and I believed him. By that point, I was heavily drugged, experiencing effects unlike anything I had ever felt before. He had been giving me substances that altered my state beyond recognition. And then it hit me—this was December 13th, the ninth anniversary of my brother's suicide.

They had orchestrated this moment down to the exact day.

Unbelievable, I know. But it's the truth.

I had a gun pointed at my face in Arkansas, but this was the first real assassination attempt I was aware of. Many more would follow. It took me years to fully understand and piece together what had really happened that night.

Daniel Lemon tried to poison me three times over four weeks. And for some reason, I kept trusting him.

But he wasn't the only one.

Puppet Software – Serial Killers

I discovered that Puppet Software, operating under Puppet.com, was actually a front company for the CIA and NSA, designed to develop and deploy software used in V2K (Voice to Skull) and MKUltra mind-control technology. This sinister operation, hidden behind the facade of a legitimate tech company, was responsible for some of the most invasive psychological warfare imaginable.

Over time, multiple individuals involved in the company—whom I refer to as “Puppets”—admitted to me the true nature of their work. Through extensive interactions, I unraveled the reality of this organization and the people who operated it. What I found was chilling.

I was their primary test subject for years, subjected to relentless psychological manipulation and invasive technologies designed to break the human spirit. The orchestrator of much of this torment was none other than Puppet’s founder, Luke Kanies. His influence was far-reaching, but his malevolence was unparalleled. Through my own methods, I was able to manipulate the very software they used against me, reversing its effects to extract confessions from him.

One day, almost in disbelief, I posed a question I never expected a real answer to: "How many women have you murdered in person?" The extracted response was horrifying: "Seven."

Luke Kanies, listed as Puppet’s Founder and CEO on their website in 2023, was not acting alone. His second-in-command, a man known as "Scott," was deeply entrenched in these operations and complicit in the atrocities. Another key figure in this nightmare was a woman named "Joelle," who played an instrumental role in the company’s dark agenda.

As I delved deeper, I found myself becoming an unintended confidant for many Puppet employees. They began revealing their grievances—complaints about their oppressive work environment, frustration with their demanding and ruthless boss, dissatisfaction with low pay, and the absence of meaningful benefits. It became clear that many of them had no true loyalty to the company’s mission. They were caught in a system they did not fully understand, coerced into participating in something far darker than they had signed up for.

Despite their reluctance, they were given direct orders—orders they did not want to follow. Orders to hurt me.

Then, in 2023, Puppet Software suffered a catastrophic breach. North Korea hacked the company, exposing its classified operations and leveraging its findings to blackmail the U.S. government for an astounding $3 billion per month. This forced the CIA to cover its tracks quickly. In response, they orchestrated a merger with another intelligence-controlled company—Perforce.com. Puppet was absorbed into Perforce, rebranded under a new name, effectively erasing its previous identity from the public eye.

But no matter how much they tried to hide, I had already seen behind the curtain. The truth could not be erased.

The One that Killed Me

One of the “Puppets” I met in Portland, a man, eventually admitted that his handler had specifically given him poison meant for me. Their handlers assigned them nicknames based on the states they were from, a detail I wouldn’t fully understand until later. His nickname was Tennessee.

I caught two others in the act—loading poison into a pipe after keeping me wired on uppers. Each time, the moment I inhaled, my body would shut down. I would slump over, paralyzed, unable to move for 15 minutes before somehow regaining consciousness.

One time, they almost succeeded.

Tennessee had helped fuel my addiction to injections, always offering them to me for free. I later learned from his handler that this was intentional. They wanted him to do it.

One day, he gave me a dose—free, as usual. But this time, it wasn’t just a drug. It was poison.

And it did kill me.

I don’t know how to explain it, except to say that I died and was somehow brought back to life. I have no other words for it—just that for a moment, I was gone.

May 2021 – A Confession

By May 2021, Tennessee finally admitted the truth.

He told me he had been working with the government for 5.5 years—and he regretted it.

Then, he pointed to the top of a high-rise building with the words “Puppet Software” on the side and said, “They’re watching us right now from up there.”

Then he told me to research something called gangstalking.

"This is what's happening to you," he said.

He was the second Puppet to tell me this.

Work for Us – The Invitation

In Portland, I discovered that a group of them—drug dealers, informants, and street operatives—were all working for the government in exchange for free drugs from their handlers. They would do anything they were asked, even kill.

They called themselves the "Nines."

They operated like a gang, but their loyalty wasn't to the streets—it was to the people pulling the strings.

One night, two members approached me. A black helicopter and a drone hovered above us, their presence undeniable. They glanced up, then back at me.

"Will you work for us?"

I refused. But I wasn't about to walk away without answers.

"I need more information," I said. "Who exactly am I working for?"

I already knew it was the government. But I needed to hear it from them.

One of them nodded and left to get me an answer. The next day, he returned with a message.

"I was told I can't give you more information," he said. "But I was told to say we're a gang. The Nines."

Then he added, "They also wanted me to tell you that they have... compromising video of you."

I laughed. "You're not the first."

He relayed my response back to his handler.

From that moment on, they didn't like me anymore.

Rejection isn't something the government—or at least this group—takes well.

Escaping Portland

One day I was approached by knifepoint, a “Puppet”, someone wanted what I had, but I wasn't going to give it up. I pulled out my knife, and luckily it was bigger than his. After a tense 5-minute stand-off, I came out the winner – and alive. That day I knew I had too much heat on me, I had to get out. I made my escape. I ditched my cell phone in the river, and went deep into the woods until I could plan an escape farther away.

The Salem Experiments

You might think this sounds like the ramblings of a madman—I understand. But what I endured was real. The experiments were beyond comprehension—inhumane, life-altering, and even left permanent physical changes to my body.

Salem, Oregon – October 2021

When I first arrived in Salem, things seemed slow, almost as if I was given a moment to breathe. But it didn't last. Before long, the targeting intensified, and I found myself entangled in experiments that defied logic and human decency.

I felt as though I had become a subject in experiments involving:

The Astral Realm and Astral Projection

Manifestation and The Gateway Process

Sexual Programming and Psychological Manipulation

Remote Brain Signal Recording and Playback

To this day, I still do not understand why I was subjected to these experiments, nor why I felt so strongly that I was part of something much larger than myself.

And those responsible refuse to provide answers.

I understand you're thinking this is impossible. It's okay. I understand. I would too. Evidence and testimony will prove these accusations. I will leave it at that.

15 Attempts on My Life

Portland was not the only place where my murder was planned. Similar attempts took place in Hawaii and California as I fled for my life, constantly evading the forces that sought to silence me.

Over the course of three years, I estimate that at least 15 attempts were made to either end my life or cause me serious harm. I was attacked with knives and guns, drugged, and meticulously set up in scenarios so calculated that they could not have been coincidences. Each incident was an unmistakable piece of a larger, coordinated effort to eliminate me.

Later, I would come to understand the full extent of their operations—assassination plans that sometimes took weeks to orchestrate. Every move was carefully arranged, every detail deliberately executed.

But every single attempt failed.

And I am still here. Still alive.

Remote Energy Weapons

I first became aware that I was being targeted by remote energy weapons in 2024 when I began experiencing debilitating headaches and severe muscle pain, which I initially mistook for arthritis. My ability to focus deteriorated, my head throbbed relentlessly, and a persistent fog clouded my thoughts. It became clear that something was being used against me. During the first year of these attacks, I could barely function.

As I searched for answers, I discovered articles on SpaceForce.com openly admitting to the use of remote energy weapons on U.S. citizens. One article specifically mentioned a squadron of female operators utilizing these weapons. Digging deeper, I found multiple individuals on LinkedIn listing their job titles as Remote Energy Weapon Operators at Space Force, Colorado Springs, Colorado. In addition, I found that SpaceForce.com had published an article showing the exact names of the women who were part of this program.

I later obtained direct confirmation from these very operators, who admitted to knowingly using these weapons on me, despite the presence of seven children in my home and knowing by their own admission that the children were within 10-20 feet of me at all times, seeing as I am below them in the basement and they are above me. Their actions are not only in violation of U.S. law but also against direct military regulations. These operators acted with full awareness and willful negligence, and they must be held accountable for their crimes.

Schizophrenia Diagnosis

After years of being targeted, I was officially diagnosed with schizophrenia. However, I knew with absolute certainty that I was not mentally ill. Despite my clarity, convincing doctors and nurses of the truth was impossible. I was completely honest—I heard the voices, I felt the effects of the weapons, and I needed someone to acknowledge my experience. I turned to the medical professionals, believing they would at least document my claims, but instead, they dismissed my reality and labeled me as schizophrenic in 2024 at the age of 44—an unusual age for such a diagnosis. The only symptoms I exhibited were directly related to the targeting I was enduring. I was not delusional, I did not see hallucinations, yet they still imposed this diagnosis upon me simply because I spoke the truth about what was happening.

Space Force 2nd Space Operations Squadron

I have identified specific individuals responsible for certain aspects of my torture, including those who operate the satellites used against me.

Individuals Involved in Satellite Operations:

- 1st Lt. Kelley McCaa – Satellite Vehicle Operator, 2nd SOPS
- 1st Lt. Mary McLaughlin – Payload System Operator, 2nd SOPS

- 1st Lt. Mikayla Roberts – Mission Analyst, 2nd SOPS
- Staff Sgt. Kelly Malone – Crew Chief, 2nd SOPS
- Senior Airman Joelle Schritt – Mission Planner, 19th SOPS
- Airman 1st Class Gillian Clover – Satellite Systems Operator, 2nd SOPS
- Airman 1st Class Larissa Contreras – SSO, 2nd SOPS

Senior Officers Involved:

- Brig. Gen. Traci Kueker-Murphy – Director of Operations
- Lt. Col. Michael Schriever – Squadron Commander, 2nd SOPS
- Maj. Lucia White – Assistant Director of Operations, 2nd SOPS
- Capt. Angela Tomasek – Flight Commander, 2nd SOPS

For further evidence, refer to: Targeted Justice – Women at Schriever AFB.

Fighting Back

But I survived. Somehow, despite every attempt to destroy me, I endured. I uncovered the technology they used, the patterns in their tactics, and the ways they failed.

Now, I am telling my story. Not just to expose what was done to me, but to warn others. Because if they could do this to me, they can do it to anyone.

The war is not over. But now, I know how to fight.

Despite official denial, an increasing number of Targeted Individuals (TIs) are coming forward with evidence of electronic harassment, mind manipulation, and remote neural monitoring. Classified patents confirm the existence of these technologies, and legal action is growing as more victims document their experiences.

The need for global awareness and resistance is more critical than ever. It is imperative to expose and counter these covert psychological warfare programs, which continue to expand under the cover of national security.

See the below sites for community information on Targeted Individuals.

TargetedJustice.com
StopGangstalkingCrimes.com
Mind-Control-News.de
TargetedIndividualsCanada.com
RLighthouse.com
Trance-Formation.com
Pactsntl.org
JusticeForAllCitizens.com